from the president

‘Painting is a way to transfer a thought that is too big or too personal to put into words.’

William Reese, Artist

Thanks to everyone who has worked to bring the upcoming show at the Community Center to fruition. It is no small accomplishment that we were able to pull together this event with less than one month of advance planning and we look forward to recognizing the winners in March. Our first juried show at the Community Center since the 2015 Ramp Show, we will hang somewhere between 20 to 25 works of art in the second floor Atrium Gallery. Thanks to show coordinator Ginger Sanaie, Jane Coonice, and other exhibition committee members.

The juror, Jessica Mickey, is known primarily for her landscapes and portraits of people and pets. Ms. Mickey was co-Director of Gallery Underground in Arlington, VA for four years and has won multiple awards for her own paintings. She was highlighted in Elan Magazine’s March 2020 issue.

Cheers!
Ray
